

Scoil Mhuire, Effin.

Relationships and Sexuality Education Whole School Policy.

Introductory Statement and Rationale.

Introductory Statement:

SPHE has been taught in Scoil Mhuire for many years through various programmes and initiatives such as Stay Safe, Walk Tall and the Relationships and Sexuality Education Programme. It has also been taught through integration with other subject areas such as Physical Education, Religion, Geography, etc.

Our school aims to provide an environment that will allow each child to develop to his/her full educational potential while also fostering, their optimum personal growth. We will be guided by the Catholic Ethos in our endeavours to achieve these aims. We hope to provide a safe and stimulating learning environment for all our pupils where their natural curiosity, self-expression, mutual respect and individuality will be allowed to flourish. It is hoped that every child who leaves this school will look back on their primary school years as enjoyable, educational and as providing a solid base for their future development. Finally, our aim is that Scoil Mhuire, Effin, will reflect the larger Parish Community with pupils, teachers and parents striving to enhance the lives of all its members.

A Roman Catholic school (which is established in connection with the Minister) aims at promoting the full and harmonious development of all aspects of the person of the pupil: intellectual, physical, cultural, moral and spiritual, including a living relationship with God and with other people.

The school models and promotes a philosophy of life inspired by belief in God and in the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The Catholic school provides religious education for the pupils in accordance with the doctrines, practices and tradition of the Roman Catholic Church and promotes the formation of the pupils in the Catholic Faith.

How the policy was developed: All schools are required to have an RSE policy to detail how RSE is taught in the school, including the sensitive aspects. This policy was devised by the ISM team and is an approved approach to the teaching of Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE). It was developed to inform teachers and parents as to what material is covered in the RSE programme within SPHE both formally and informally. The most recent review of this policy was carried out in December 2022.

School Philosophy:

We recognise that SPHE is intrinsic to the teaching and learning that occurs both formally and informally in school and in the classroom. Through our SPHE programme and subsequently through RSE, we wish to assist children to develop feelings of self-worth and self-confidence while encouraging their ability to relate to others in a positive way. The curriculum also encourages children to be aware of their rights as an individual while at the same time accepting responsibility for their actions as members of the school and the wider community. Our school values the uniqueness of all individuals within a caring school community. Our ethos means that we value respect, tolerance and openness through the lived experience of the children and school community. Parents have the primary role in the social, personal and health education of their children so their involvement will be encouraged as much as possible. SPHE and RSE are key components in supporting our school and children to develop into healthy young adults.

Definition of RSE

Relationships and Sexuality Education is an integral part of SPHE and must be taught in this context. It provides structured opportunities for pupils to acquire knowledge and understanding of human sexuality and relationships through processes which will enable them to form values and establish behaviours within a moral, spiritual and social framework. In particular, it addresses the meaning of human sexuality, relationships, growth and development, relevant to personal and social skills.

Relationship of RSE to SPHE:

Social, Personal and Health Education (SPHE) provides opportunities for pupils to learn basic personal and social skills which foster integrity, self-confidence and self-esteem while nurturing sensitivity to the feelings and rights of others.

SPHE:

- Is a lifelong process and consequently RSE is a continual process throughout primary school and is not confined to once off inputs or lessons.
- Is a shared responsibility between family, school, health professionals and the community. RSE education should include an input from all of these bodies and collaboration can be fostered through the teaching and delivery of materials.
- Is a generic approach. It is not so much about the specific content of RSE but rather the relationship with a child's skills, attitudes, values and understanding relevant to a range of social, personal and health issues.
- Is based on the needs of the child, therefore RSE education should prioritise the needs of the child and his/her environment, with appropriate adaptations made within the curriculum to suit individual requirements and individual school situations.
- Is spiral in nature. RSE is revisited at different stages throughout the child's time in school, which will provide opportunities to consolidate and build on previous learning. It also allows for issues and topics to be explored and treated in a manner appropriate to the children's needs, abilities and levels of maturity
- Engages children in activity based learning. RSE should provide a range of learning opportunities that include working together, learning about one's own feelings and those of others, developing a sense of empathy and experiencing and supporting healthy relationships.

Through SPHE and RSE, members of the school community should be enabled to enhance their self-esteem and wellbeing through:

- A sense of identity
- A sense of purpose
- A sense of belonging

- A sense of security
- A sense of competence.

In an ever changing world, RSE encourages children through consistent messages that are taught in line with SPHE. The school has a responsibility to ensure that its curriculum is free of bias and that issues of inequality in any form are addressed and dealt with (SPHE Teacher guidelines, p25). In learning about cultures and traditions of others, children can develop a sense of respect for difference and appreciate the contribution that such has to offer. It will encourage children to be inclusive with each other, challenge prejudice and learn how to live in an intercultural society.

Guidelines for the Management and Organisation of RSE in our School.

Curriculum Content:

The curriculum by NCCA will be followed as published, and will be taught from infants to 6th class. All resources used will be in keeping with the ethos of the school, the whole school plan for SPHE and the RSE policy. Each class teacher will teach the content for their class level each year as laid out in the curriculum, and utilising the RSE manuals to complement their teaching.

Management of RSE:

- The strands Growing and Changing, and Taking Care of my Body are covered in Year Two of a 2 year SPHE plan.
- The sensitive lessons are covered as part of these broad topics (as outlined below and see appendix 1)
- Special consideration will be taken to ensure that the needs of children with SEN are met.
- Taking into account the pupil's social and emotional development, instruction will be based on individual needs where possible.
- Parents will be informed of teaching around sensitive issues.

Parental Involvement

The school acknowledges that parents have the primary responsibility for educating their children about growing and changing.

- Parents will be informed that the school fully implements the RSE strands of the SPHE programme including sensitive aspects of the programme at enrollment.
- Parents will be informed in advance of lessons on the sensitive areas of the RSE programme, with a letter relevant to what will be taught at their child's class level, example of letter see Appendix 1.
- The letter will be issued in advance, giving parents an opportunity to meet with relevant class teachers if they so wish, to discuss or clarify what is covered and to prepare their children, it also gives parents an opportunity to become involved, to inform themselves of the programme content and to prepare children for the information they will acquire around the sensitive areas and discuss areas covered in RSE/SPHE.
- Parents are welcome to view the curriculum and may speak to the class teacher if they have any concerns at any time during the year.
- Following discussion with Class Teacher, if a parent wishes to withdraw their child from the sensitive lessons notice of same should be given in writing stating their reasons for doing so and this will be stored in the pupil's file.
- If a child has been withdrawn from the sensitive RSE lessons, the school takes no responsibility for what the child may hear following on from the teaching of the lessons. eg. what they may hear from other pupils.

Approaches & Methodologies

When implementing the programme, staff at Scoil Mhuire will endeavour to display respect for and sensitivity towards the different cultural and family backgrounds experienced by the children. The curriculum will be taught in an age-appropriate manner at all times. The curriculum will be taught from Junior Infants to 6th class. It will be taught through a spiral curriculum (key topics will be revisited in a developmental manner at regular intervals). The materials taught will reflect the needs of the children. Active Learning Methodologies are an integral part of teaching of SPHE and RSE. Any or all of the following techniques will allow the child to play an active part in the learning process:

- Discussion
- Role play
- Interviewing friends, or other school pupils, family members
- Surveys of attitudes
- Hosting visitors
- Projects
- Designing advertisements
- Writing captions
- Ranking statements
- Describing photographs
- Viewing and discussing videos
- Stories and poems
- Pair work and group work
- Games
- Art activities
- Reflection

- Circle time

Guest speakers e.g. Gardaí, Fire Officers etc. (The class teacher will stay in the room at all times in accordance with Department of Education and Science Circular 22/2010).

Differentiation

Teachers use assessment and professional judgment to differentiate the programme and content to suit the needs of the class.

Some techniques used:

- ensuring that objectives are realistic for the students
- ensuring that the learning task is compatible with prior learning
- providing opportunities for interacting and working with other students in small groups and spending more time on tasks
- organising the learning task into small stages and ensuring that the language used is pitched at the student's level of understanding
- understanding of the activity using task analysis, outlining the steps to be learned/completed in any given task, posing key questions to guide students through the different stages/processes, and to assist in self-direction and correction
- having short and varied tasks creating a learning environment through the use of concrete, and where possible every day materials, and by displaying word lists and laminated charts with pictures.
- sometimes the stage of development in a class can vary widely and strategies to differentiate in class can support gradual and appropriate teaching
- group work and discussion
- higher and lower order questioning in groups
- moderated whole class discussions through use of a Question Box.

Pupils with Special Educational Needs

Adaptions to the way in which the content is delivered will be made for children with Special Educational Needs. Consultation with parents/ guardians in advance and anticipation of the children's needs will be central to ensuring learning is meaningful.

- Children may be pre-taught language or concepts in anticipation of whole class work
- Children may work in smaller groups or 1:1 on adapted and suitable material
- Any different or specific objectives related to the pupils own learning needs should be detailed in their Support Plan in consultation with parents/guardians.

Answering pupil questions.

We use some simple principles when fostering discussion and questioning:

- No personal questions of the teacher
- The Question Box may be availed of by the children
- The teacher will be mindful of their reaction to any questions
- Questions do not have to be answered straight away

Sample responses:

- "I'll do my best to answer your questions but I may not be able to answer all of them."
- "That's something you'll learn about as you get older."
- "Is that something you could talk to your parents/guardians/family about?"
- "We agreed in our contract that we wouldn't ask anyone personal questions."
- "Somebody asked a question and the language they used was slang language, what they meant to ask was...."
- "A question was asked, and we cannot talk about that particular topic."

For older children a 'question box' will be used as part of a structured RSE lesson. Teachers can follow up on the written questions at a later date, thus allowing time to prepare suitable answers, consult with colleagues, etc.

Question Box:

During the delivery of each section of the sensitive lessons- children will be encouraged to place their questions into a box in the classroom. These questions will then be monitored and screened with the teacher answering the questions in the following lesson taking into account the following;

- Questions arising from lesson content will be answered in an age-appropriate manner.
- The class teacher cannot answer questions which do not relate to the particular curriculum objectives for a class.
Pupils will be informed if a question/issue is not on the programme and they will be advised to talk with their parents.
- Teachers may exercise discretion to contact parents themselves if they feel that a question is very inappropriate or needs to be communicated with home because of other reasons.
- No personal questions will be answered and children will be reminded not to share personal information about their families or others - but can share with teacher after the lessons.

If issues arise which might be seen to contravene Children First Guidelines, the teacher will notify the Designated Liaison Person in the school.

Assessment.

Assessment in RSE is important to enable the teacher to pitch the lessons correctly to their respective class group.

The teacher may use:

- Observation and questions to assess the children's engagement and interest.
- Use of teacher-designed tasks such as worksheets, quizzes or games.
- Use of reflection or learning log.

Confidentiality

- The school follows Children First Guidelines 2017 and The Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post Primary Schools 2017.
- If a child is withdrawn from the teaching of sensitive issues, we cannot guarantee that the other children will not tell or inform him/her about what was taught in class.
